ODEBRECHT

Odebrecht is a Brazilian organization with global quality standards, currently present in 20 countries in the Americas, Europe, Africa and the Middle East. Odebrecht is Latin America’s leading company in Engineering & Construction and Chemicals & Petrochemicals. It is also active in Sugar-Ethanol & Bioenergy, Infrastructure & Public Services, Environmental Engineering, Oil & Gas and Real-Estate. With approximately 120 thousand members, Odebrecht is one of the pioneers in sustainability. In addition to its business commitments, it invests in education, health and environmental projects and supports social and cultural initiatives - thus, widening its scope of contribution towards the development of the countries it serves. The ethical and cultural unity of these operations is ensured by the application of the Odebrecht Entrepreneurial Technology, a set of principles, concepts and standards developed since 1944, when the Group was founded by Norberto Odebrecht.
