

Subramanian Rangan

Member of the Board of Trustees

Subi Rangan is professor of Strategy & Management at INSEAD where he holds the Abu Dhabi Crown Prince Court Endowed Chair in Societal Progress.

He received an MBA from the MIT Sloan School of Management and a Ph.D. in political economy from Harvard University.

Prof. Rangan's current research explores how enterprises may better integrate performance and progress, and how scholars may help evolve the paradigm and practice of capitalism. In 2013 he initiated the Society for Progress, a fellowship of eminent philosophers, social scientists, and business leaders (www.societyforprogress.org). Their first work was published as Performance & Progress: Essays on Capitalism, Business, and Society (Oxford University Press, 2015). Their second book is entitled Capitalism Beyond Mutuality? (Oxford, 2018).

His research has been published in the top academic journals in management, and he has conducted research on multinationals operating in Brazil. In 1998 he won the Academy of International Business' Eldridge Haynes Prize for the best original work in international business. In 1995 that academy awarded their Best Dissertation Award to his doctoral thesis. In 2010 his research won the Emerald award for Top 50 papers in management.

Prof. Rangan is a member of the board of the Schwab Foundation for Social Entrepreneurship. He was associate editor of the Academy of Management Review; and chair of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Emerging Multinationals. He directs INSEAD's top executive seminar AVIRA: Awareness, Vision, Imagination, Role, and Action. In 2018 he launched the Integrating Performance & Progress (IPP) executive seminar that he co-teaches with philosophers.
