

NATIONAL FLAG/ COMPANY'S FLAG

Junior, Antonio Batista da Silva

Dean at
Fundação Dom Cabral

Professional background Antonio Batista da Silva Junior studied Business Administration at Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais, Brasil. He is a Doctor of Business Administration at Fundação Getulio Vargas, Brasil.

As Associate Dean at FDC for 14 years, Antonio Batista played an active role in several areas of the School. He was responsible for Executive Education comprising Customized, Open enrollment and Degrees Programs. He directed different partnerships and networks with large corporations, family businesses, small and medium sized companies with the purpose of researching, training and consulting in the management field. As responsible for Research and Development he promoted and supported research and the development of knowledge and programs. As responsible for Human Resources, he coordinated the process of selecting and developing the faculty and project managers.

He is also a Professor of Corporate and Competitive Strategy and Strategic Alliances. He actively led many organizational and team development projects for domestic and international private companies and organizations from the public sector.

As of January 2016, he is the Dean of Fundação Dom Cabral.

He has published several articles in congresses and is the author of the book “A Empresa em Rede: Desenvolvendo Competências Organizacionais”, published in 2006.